Venue

The University of Essex is based in Wivenhoe Park on the south-eastern outskirts of Colchester and close to the picturesque village of Wivenhoe. Colchester claims to be the oldest town in Britain. It was mentioned by Pliny the Elder in AD 77 and was the first Roman capital of Britain. It was attacked and destroyed during Boudica's rebellion in AD 61, and sometime after the destruction, London became the capital. In 1648, during the English Civil War, the town was besieged by the Parliamentary army for eleven and a half weeks. Colchester Castle Museum, located in the Colchester Castle, includes among other things an extensive exhibit on Roman Colchester.

- Further local information will be available on the conference website: www.essex.ac.uk/LAGB2008

Accommodation

Rooms are available close to the conference venue. See the booking form and conference website for details.

Colchester is 56 miles northeast of London. It is connected to the capital by the A12 road and the Great Eastern Main Line. There is also an hourly bus service from Stansted Airport direct to the Colchester campus (details available here: www.firstgroup.com/ukbus/southeast/essex/stansted/CoachLinkDec2005.pdf).
